

Students Enrolled in Fine Arts Courses Score Higher on the SAT than those with no Fine Arts Coursework

Students of the arts continue to outperform their non-arts peers on the SAT, according to reports by the College Entrance Examination Board. Data from the College Board, Profile of College-Bound Seniors National Reports from 2008–2012 show that students enrolled in fine arts courses score 11–12% higher than students not enrolled in any fine arts courses.

Sources:

The College Board College Bound Seniors Total Group Profile Reports, 2008–2013.